

HUNT CLUBS RIDE IN THE INTEREST OF A STIFF COURSE OF BETTER SPORT

Deep Run and Riverside Hunters Follow the Hounds at Petersburg.

THIRTY RIDERS ARE IN AT THE FINISH

Local Sportsmen Are Guests of Their Brethren in Cockade City, Making One of Largest Fields Ever Brought Together There—Ends With Reception.

Times-Dispatch Bureau, 109 North Swanwick Street, Petersburg, Va., February 20. The joint meet of the Deep Run and Riverside Hunts this afternoon was an event of great interest, as it was an occasion of sportsmanlike and social enjoyment. The weather was beautiful, the temperature cool and breezing, the ground in good condition, and so large an assemblage of people has seldom been attracted to the grounds of the Riverside Club. While individual members of the Deep Run Club have previously visited Petersburg, this was the first time that the two clubs enjoyed a combined hunt in Petersburg. The occasion brought together as good a lot of hunters as can be found in the United States, and every horse in the run was up to hunting the stiffest country that is ridden over.

The following is a list of riders and horses in the run:

Deep Run Club.
W. O. Young, M. F. H., on Overland; Miss Warfield Crenshaw, on Dogwell; James W. Graves, on Kingsman; B. H. Ellington, on Robin Hood; Robert Whitehurst, on Three Spot; Mr. J. W. White, on Iron Prince; Mr. G. H. G. Leigh, on Bertha Barker; Palmer Leigh, on Brown Jug; Mr. Campbell, on Benvolio; John W. McComb, on Her Grace; Everett Wadley, Jr., on All Black.

Riverside Club.
M. C. Jackson, M. F. H., on Safe Conscience; W. R. Ruffin, huntsman, on Nick Ruffin; Len Roy Jones, on Lady Mott; S. M. Green, Jr., on Hunter Rye; Dr. H. G. Leigh, on Lucy Douglas; Leroy Roper, on Set Back; Irving Hartley, on Moonlight; R. R. Percival, on Bar Tray; Hugh Percival, on Tormentor; Harvey Spence, on Christmas; W. W. Osborne, on Black Socks; Frank Plummer, on White Ghost; E. W. Ritchie, on Lady Hope; H. W. Spratley, on Vallant; Krooms, on The Buck; Cedar Mountain and Mary Anne.

Pack of Sixteen Hounds.
The meet was in Harrell's field, with a pack of sixteen well trained and well groomed hounds, and the start, with the spirited horses and uniformed riders, was a pleasing sight. The run was through Harrell's field to Kenilworth, check to Harrell's field, run through Wilson's and Harrell's farms to River Road and check to Melvaine's; run through Melvaine's and Picard's fields to Cox Road, and check to Sussex; thence run to Myrick's, thence through Gerhardt's field to Ordinary Road, to the lower gate to the club, and then to the kennels.

During the run there were about thirty fences and six ditches to jump. Riders, horses and hounds came in fine trim and received the plaudits of the large gathering of women and men assembled to witness the finish. The Riverside Club has twice enjoyed the hospitality of the Deep Run Club, and the sportsmanlike fellowship existing between the two clubs is of the closest character and appreciated by both.

Among those present from Richmond but not riding were Mrs. Robert Whitehurst, Mrs. B. H. Ellington, Mrs. J. Allison Hodges, Miss Mary Doyle and Colonel Barton H. Grundy.

The Reception.
The reception given the Deep Run and Riverside Clubs this evening was the most brilliant and noteworthy event of the season at the Riverside Club. The society of the city was largely represented, and many guests from other points were present. The return of the hunters was watched with great delight by hundreds of enthusiastic onlookers as the horses swept into the club grounds, taking the jumps.

A elegant luncheon was served, the tables being decorated with red carnations, red tulips and evergreens. Dancing followed, and festivities were kept up for several hours. The women who received were Mesdames E. H. Patterson, W. A. Brazz, W. Gordon McCullo, Jr., E. J. McGill, R. D. Crouly, Waverly Wilkins, Leroy Roper, William Budd, Charles T. Lassiter, Misses Josephine and Lucy Melvaine, Sarah Hamilton, Mary and Anne Bell Patterson, Nan Davis, Mary Roper, Annie and Margaret Gill, Mary Booth, Grizzelle Mullen, Bessie Myers, Miss Edwards of Georgia.

Among the visiting guests were Mesdames R. H. Ellington, Alton Hodges, R. V. Whitehurst, W. H. Williams, Mrs. M. C. Jackson, Mesdames Laughton, Sills, McCarthy, Smith and Word, all of Richmond; Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. S. Jones and Mrs. Walker, of New York; Messrs. Darden and Trotlow, of Franklin; Mrs. Jones, of Charlottesville; Miss Turnbull, of Lexington; Messrs. Bernard, of Lawrenceville; Mrs. Armistead, of Baltimore; Miss Johnson, of Christiansburg; Misses Gray and Rives, of Norfolk; Miss Goodrich, of Smithfield.

Making Bid for Cup.
[Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch.] LONDON, February 20.—England intends to make a strong bid for the Davis cup for lawn tennis. A challenge has been received from Australia and when an acceptance is called for the American association will be officially invited to send a team to England in the summer to play preliminary matches at Wimbledon. England's confidence is based on the fact that an available settlement of the quarrel between the English association and the all-England club has brought the Doherty brothers, and R. H. Smith, back into the fold. The English players, W. Gore and Ritchie, will be available.

August Belmont Seeks Support of the Various Hunt Clubs.

TO PUT RACING BACK ON OLD, HIGH BASIS

Jockey Club and National Steeplechase and Hunt Association Will Work Together—New Committee Appointed to Make Plans for Continuance of Racing.

NEW YORK, February 20.—Forty-three hunt clubs in America, representing the interests of the aristocratic and exclusive sportsmen, who have heretofore confined their sporting inclinations entirely to fox-hunts and cross-country riding, have answered an appeal by August Belmont, chairman of the Jockey Club and president of the National Steeplechase and Hunt Association, and will do their best to put racing in America back on the same high plane it occupied before the sport almost degenerated into a mere gambling institution.

Months ago Mr. Belmont sent out a circular to the hunt clubs of this country, asking for their co-operation, and admitting that the help of the real sportsmen, and not of the sports, was needed if racing was to be continued at all in this country.

The circular did not meet with any amount of enthusiasm on the part of the huntmen, who, for some years, have had no liking for Mr. Belmont and his brother-in-law, S. S. Howland, the secretary of the National Steeplechase and Hunt Association. That organization has practically ignored the amateur sportsman, except to force racing rules upon them and to require that at every amateur meeting the hunt club in charge pay a steward sent there by the Jockey Club $100 a day. In many instances no gate fee was charged at the small meetings, and seldom when such a fee was exacted did the receipts of the day come up to the $100 which had to be paid to the steward.

Committee Appointed.
Thirty-one of the forty-three hunt clubs sent representatives, most of them being masters of foxhounds of the clubs, to New York to confer with Mr. Belmont, and a stormy meeting followed, at which many of the sportsmen expressed a willingness to break away from the National Steeplechase and Hunt Association. Finally a committee of five was appointed to arrange plans for bettering the sport in this country, and to work with the Jockey Club to the end that the hunt clubs be given better representation on the National Association.

These five men were Westmoreland Davis, representing thirteen hunt clubs in Virginia; Spencer Harper, of New York, representing the New York hunt clubs; Charles P. Fisher, of New Jersey; A. Devereaux, of Radnor, Pa., and Redmond C. Stewart, of Maryland, master of foxhounds of the Green Spring Valley Hunt, and one of the judges in the last New York Horse Show.

The committee could not agree on some of the things which should be done, and minority and majority reports were issued, which caused some confusion. Later, the five got together in a private meeting in Mr. Belmont's office, and it was finally decided to work together with the Jockey Club and the National Steeplechase and Hunt Association in the interests of cleaner sport. Many of the great sportsmen in America have come from the ranks of the hunters. When Harry Smith, master of hounds of the Worcester Hunt Club, and the present master of the Loudoun Hunt, at Leesburg, Va., who is the champion steeplechase at Morris Park, in 1909, he rode his own horse.

Secretary Howland, of the National Steeplechase and Hunt Association, and the committee of five representing the hunt clubs, have agreed that all matters should now be placed in the hands of a new committee of nine. Six of these are being chosen from the hunt clubs and three from the national association. They will meet in Mr. Belmont's office in a few days to perfect plans for the continuing of racing.

CARS RACE FROM OCEAN TO OCEAN

Transcontinental Contest Attracting Widespread Attention from Motorists.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] NEW YORK, February 20.—The transcontinental race from New York has aroused great interest in motoring circles. The fact that it has the endorsement of the Alaska-Yukon Exposition authorities, and that the finish line will be in the exposition grounds, lends to it an objective point which many contests lack. Discussion of the time that the winner will make has commenced, several forecasts being of the opinion that the winning time will reach Seattle in less than ten days. The distance by the shortest practical route is 3,000 miles. M. Robert Guggenheim is the donor of the trophy. It is expected that the ocean to ocean contest will be hampered by very few rules, the object of the race being to show that modern motor cars, either in the hands of the user or the professional, can go anywhere and carry passengers to any destination, no matter how remote.

FIGHT FANS ARE AT LOGGERS HEADS

Discussion of Winner in Driscoll-Attell Bout Reaches Heated Stage.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] NEW YORK, February 20.—All New York talked to-day of the sensational ten-round battle between Jim Driscoll and Abe Attell, which took place at the National Academy Friday night. Probably no glove contest in years caused such a wide difference of opinion among sporting men. To an unprejudiced observer, competent to judge the respective merits of the boxers, there was nothing to it but Driscoll. In point of quickness, head work, accuracy and generalship, the Welshman had Attell clearly beaten; yet along Broadway to-day many persons could be found who were insistent in declaring that Attell won "by a mile." In almost every case, however, these persons were either influenced by the bets they made against Driscoll, which they were anxious to save, or were in direct sympathy with the American champion.

Thinks Abe Won.
Tom O'Rourke, who was in Attell's corner, for instance, declared that Abe won in a walk. O'Rourke's opinion as a rule is worthy of passing notice, because of his long experience with pugilists, but in this case he was governed solely by personal prejudice. Before Driscoll came to America, O'Rourke tried to obtain the management of the clever Briton, but Charley Harvey got ahead of him. Then, when Driscoll arrived here, O'Rourke declared that he was not a high-class "feather," and to prove this assertion Sir Thomas Driscoll came to America. In America he became Attell's chief adviser in the big bout. It was natural, therefore, for O'Rourke to claim a victory, but absolutely fair-minded observers—and there were a number of them—were positive that Driscoll had a formidable lead on points when the bout ended, but the fact that there was no referee's decision and no knockout leaves the question of which is the world's featherweight champion still in doubt.

Excellent Move.
President Farrell, of the New York Athletic Club, who got back from the Chicago schedule meeting on Friday, says that Manager Stallings made an excellent move in selling Wadsworth's release to the Washington Club. Farrell says that Conroy, while a fine player, could not stand the Philadelphia strain, and that Stallings wanted to make room for a younger man. Arthur Egan, the Highlanders' chief scout, thinks Joe Ward will be the regular third baseman beyond a doubt. Irwin says that Ward's big hitting will clinch the position.

Horsemen Optimistic.
Several well-known turfmen, who say they know the inside of the Jockey Club's affairs, declare that the racing dates will not be made public until possibly April 1, when the various associations will open their stake books. They say that the turf governors do not care to hurry matters, but prefer to wait until May, if necessary, before deciding on a definite policy. It is said that the track owners are waiting for court decisions in several important cases, which, if favorable, will permit racing to exist this year on a moderate basis. It is a fact that all of the men directly interested in the control of racing in the East are decidedly optimistic as to the future.

Crack Men of Virginia, Georgetown, George Washington, and Other Colleges Are Entered.

Some of the best athletes in the South are entered for the first annual indoor meet of Richmond College, which will be held at the Horse Show building next Saturday night, and present indications are that the meet will be one of the best that has been pulled off in Virginia in many years.

L. A. Martin, of the University of Virginia, who holds the world's record for the short hurdle, and who participated in the Federal meet at Washington last night, will be seen in the hurdles.

Among the other track men that will be sent down by the variety will be Stanton, the great football player, and the Pacific coast champion in the 440-yard dash; Randolph, the holder of the South Atlantic intercollegiate record for the high jump; Holladay, Wilshire, Thurlow, King and Eager.

Six of the best track men of Johns Hopkins University, of Baltimore, including the members of the fast relay team of that institution, will take part in the various events. They are: Bremer, Hunter, Bailey, Fulton, Stollwerck and Bridgman.

Among the other big colleges of the South that will be represented are Georgetown University and George Washington University. Washington and Lee University, of Lexington, Va., and the University of Maryland, of College Park, Md., will also be represented.

Nine Relay Races.
Probably the best events of the night will be the relay races between Johns Hopkins and George Washington, and between Maryland and Georgetown. Richmond College, Randolph-Macon College and William and Mary College will meet in a three-cornered relay event, and this is expected to prove especially exciting. There will be six other relay races, as follows:

Richmond Howitzers and the Virginia Boat Club; Richmond Young Men's Christian Association and Christ Church and Covenanters; Richmond Academy and Cluster Springs Academy; Richmond Academy Midgents and Seagraves; and Richmond Academy and the Richmond High School will meet in a three-cornered event.

There are a number of individual events in the athletic club in Washington, Baltimore and Philadelphia, including such stars as Gallagher, the crack long distance runner; Herring, the half-mile champion of the South Atlantic States; and Hagerman, the former Columbia University hurdler, who will run the half-mile, Lodge, Jacker and Herring are pitted in a half-mile run, and the event should be unusually fast and close. Jack Sterrett, the champion pole-vaulter of the South, will try to break his present record. Temple Waddill, who holds the record for the mile run at Lehigh University, will enter the mile event.

Many Specters Entered.
Richmond College has entered a large set of hurdles to make a fine showing. Davis, Jackson and Lankford will be seen in the shotput, and Seagraves, Strother, Gill, Ancarrow and Seagraves will run the half-mile. Lodge and Taylor will do the 440-yard dash, and Meek and Lankford are entered for the hurdles. Phillips, Harris and Snyder will go into the mile run, and Lankford and Captain Bristow will enter the 50-yard dash. The relay race between Richmond, Randolph-Macon and William and Mary will be for the championship of the Eastern Intercollegiate League of Virginia, and the Spiders will put forth their best for this event.

DE PALMA BREAKS WORLD'S RECORD

He Beats Old Field's Time Over Ten-Mile Course in Heavyweight Car.

NEW ORLEANS, La., February 20.—The principal feature of the first day of the Mardi Gras automobile races was the breaking of the ten-mile world's track record for heavyweight gasoline cars by Ralph De Palma. In his Fiat car he made the distance in 9:11 2-5, which is 1-5 seconds better than the record made by Barney Oldfield in 1904.

De Palma made his record in the ten-mile handicap, defeating a field of five after being handicapped a full minute.

Mrs. Joan Cuneo broke her own record for five miles in an exhibition race, her time being 6:05 2-5. Her former record, which was also the world's woman's record, was 6:04 3-5. Mrs. Cuneo negotiated the turns with ease, and made them sharper than most of the men. She kept abreast of De Palma for the first eighteen miles of the fifty-mile race.

No accidents of any kind occurred. The races last two days more. The features of Sunday's races will be the 100-mile event, in which there will be ten entries, including Mrs. Cuneo and De Palma.

First race—free-for-all, mile trial, for world's record—De Palma (Fiat Cyclone), 5:54 1-4, first; Riall (Matheson), 1:01, second; Robertson (Stimpson), 1:01 2-5, third; Mac (Knox-Giant), 1:02 1-5, fourth. All other entries scratched.

Second event—ten-mile trial to lower world's circular track record of 9:12 3-5—Ralph De Palma (Fiat-Cyclone), 9:11 2-5.

Third event—five-mile exhibition—Mrs. Joan Newton Cuneo (Knox-Giant), 5:05 2-5. Woman's record held by Mrs. Cuneo, 6:04 3-5.

Fourth event—five miles, gasoline stock chassis, touring car, tonabout, selling at $750 to $800—the cars of Burman (Thomas) and Lindrose (Oldsmobile) broke down in the beginning. Schwartz (Buick) finished one mile only. No time announced.

Fifth event—five miles, limited to New Orleans entries, was eliminated.

Sixth event—fifty miles, free-for-all—Mrs. De Palma (Fiat-Cyclone), 5:12 4-5, first; Mrs. Cuneo (Knox-Giant), 5:24 3-5, second; Robertson (Stimpson), third. No time announced.

Seventh event—ten miles—De Palma (Fiat-Cyclone), 9:11 2-5, first; Robertson (Stimpson), second; Strang (Isotta), third. Time of winner only announced.

Eighth event—five miles, limited to New Orleans entries, was eliminated.

Sixth event—fifty miles, free-for-all—Mrs. De Palma (Fiat-Cyclone), 5:12 4-5, first; Mrs. Cuneo (Knox-Giant), 5:24 3-5, second; Robertson (Stimpson), third. No time announced.

TRACK ATHLETICS BEING DEVELOPED

First Step Taken Toward Pushing This College Sport in North Carolina.

COLLEGES WILL SEND TEAMS TO GREENSBORO

State Meet Will Be Held in That City April 19, With Program of Events and Handsome Prizes for Winners. Teams Now in Training.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] CHAPEL HILL, N. C., February 20.—At a meeting of the Greensboro Chamber of Commerce Saturday night it was decided to have an intercollegiate track meet in that city on April 19. This meeting was attended by the track teams of the University of North Carolina, Guilford Agricultural and Mechanical, Wake Forest and the University of North Carolina. All these institutions will be represented at the meet, and it is understood that Davidson will also send a team.

The meet will be held indoors in the Greensboro Auditorium. The Virginia-Carolina baseball game will be played there on the same date. This alone will insure a large attendance. The rules governing the meet will be the same as those adopted by the Intercollegiate Association of America. First place will be counted five points, second three points, third two points and fourth one point. Those winning first place will be given gold medals and those capturing third place will get bronze medals. The colleges winning the meet will be presented with a handsome silver cup. All the usual track events will be held except the two-mile race and the hammer throw. There will be a mile relay.

Pay Expenses of Twenty.
The Greensboro Chamber of Commerce has offered to pay the expenses of twenty men from each college that desires to enter the meet. This is the first step towards the development of track athletics in North Carolina, and will probably result with encouragement on all sides.

Carolina will send a team to the meet, and the Capital City is especially desirous that his team carry off the laurels. He has issued a call for all the white athletes for this contest to meet each afternoon at 6 o'clock at the gymnasium. W. P. Jacobs, the former all-Southern quarter back, has agreed to help coach the school's athletes.

In addition to the meet in Greensboro, Manager Easton has completed arrangements for meets with three Southern colleges, two of which will be here. He scheduled the meet to be complete by the end of this month.

Sweater Men Meet.
At a meeting of the "Sweater Men of the N. C." meeting were adopted to the effect that none but those entitled to the "Sweater Men" contest should be permitted to enter. The contest is a part of the uniforms characteristic of the different varsity teams. The contest is a part of the uniforms characteristic of the different varsity teams. MVEY GETS DECISION.
[Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch.] PARIS, February 20.—Sam McVey, the California heavyweight, and Joe Jeannette, both negro fighters, boxed twenty rounds in the Casino de Paris to-night. Neither of the fighters was seriously injured, and both finished without showing any signs of exhaustion. McVey then declared on points. This seemed to satisfy the audience, which had been warned by the sporting news that the decision would be a close one when two negroes fight it is not likely that one will knock the other out. Jeannette's science and quickness seemed to be superior to that of McVey, but his blows lacked force. McVey had the power, but lacked the ability to profit by it.

In the fourteenth round, Joe saved himself by continued hugging at which the spectators hooted and yelled "that's a good one." The hugging was the main feature of the last two rounds, and the match left many of the spectators convinced that the fighters were twaddling and could not show their real powers.

Another meeting between these two will be held in London because of the renewed interest aroused by to-night's mill.

ELBERFELD GOES TO HIGHLANDERS

Long-Drawn-Out Speculation as to Berth of Lynchburg Man Ended.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] LYNCHBURG, VA., February 20.—"Kid" Elberfeld will play with the New York Highlanders this season, being ordered by Manager Stallings to report to the club on Monday, Feb. 22, at Macdonald for the spring practice. This settles the long-drawn-out speculation as to Elberfeld going to New York, the outcome being somewhat of a surprise, as Stallings is credited with promising the "Kid" under any management of the Highlanders, that he could select the team that would give him the best chance of getting to New York. Elberfeld is disappointed, for he wanted to get away from New York. He will, however, give Stallings the best that is in him.

Philadelphians Win.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] KINGSTON, JAMAICA, February 20.—The Philadelphia cricketers won the game with the Jamaica cricketers by eight wickets to-day. Jamaica made 110 runs in the first inning and 176 in the second. The Philadelphians scored 255 for nine wickets in the first inning. Nicholson made 70 runs in the second Philadelphia scored 23 for two wickets.

VIRGINIA LOWERS COLORS OF U. OF P.

Orange and Blue Defeats Pennsylvania Runners With Ridiculous Ease.

RACE IS FEATURE OF FEDERAL MEET

In Galaxy of World's Star Men, Athletes of Old Dominion Make Grand Showing—Sheppard Fails to Get Through Crowd, and Loses Place.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] WASHINGTON, D. C., February 20.—That the University of Virginia has the greatest quartet of relay runners was demonstrated to-night at the sixth renewal of the federal indoor games, at Convention Hall, before a crowd that jammed the large stadium to the doors, when the Orange and Blue four completely outclassed Pennsylvania's sturdy team in a 1,500-metre race.

At the outset of the long race it looked as if it might be a close one, with ease, as Goodwin fell on the first turn and lost ten yards, but Wilshire had a burst of speed, passed Beck on the second time around, and from then on until the end, Virginia held the lead and gained on each relay, winning with ridiculous ease.

It has been many years since an athletic race in this city brought forth such a tremendous amount of cheering. It was impossible to see the runners circling the track because of the crowd which lined the track on all sides.

The other most interesting relay races were between George Washington and Johns Hopkins University, which the latter won, and one between Princeton University and a Washington all-collegiate team. Princeton won easily.

Many Stars There.
There was a galaxy of world's record-holders and star men of many important institutions, several hundred athletes competing, and a program that included a score of relay races and eighteen individual events at the meet. Princeton, Pennsylvania, Virginia, Johns Hopkins and Villa Nova College were among the institutions that sent their best men participated in the competitions.

Melvin W. Sheppard, present holder of the record for the 1,500-metre race, was present, but did not compete in this event, which proved to be one of the most exciting features of the meet. McGehee, of Princeton, was first, while J. Gallagher, of the Brown Preparatory School of Philadelphia, was but a few feet behind him, and J. Wymest, of the University of Pennsylvania, was third.

Johns Hopkins and George Washington ran an exciting relay, the Baltimore quart winning by about five yards.

Jack Sterrett, of George Washington University, School of Atlantic champion pole vaulter, tied with C. Yearbrough of Princeton for first, but lost in the jump off. Both men cleared the bar at 11 feet 5 inches.

High School Wins.
The Episcopal High School, of Alexandria, easily defeated the Waverly Forest School, winning by nearly half a lap. Its second team was not so successful, however, as it was defeated by the four from Baltimore City College in a 1,000-metre race.

Harry F. Porter, I. A. C., won the running high jump from scratch. He went 5 feet 11 1-2 inches. W. Burdick, University of Pennsylvania, was second, jumping 5 feet 11 inches.

The Maryland Agricultural College ran a neck and neck race with the Brown Preparatory School of Philadelphia. Its last man winning the event by a burst of speed, after starting several yards in the van.

W. W. Douglas, of the University of Pennsylvania, won the 100-metre race, with a handicap of five feet, and J. Martin, of the University of Virginia, was second from scratch. Tom Smith, of George Washington University, was third, and J. Wymest, of Princeton, finished third and fourth in this event. Time, 6-3-5 seconds.

Harris Hallman and Lewis Robertson won the three-legged race easily. King and Royce, of George Washington University, were second. The 500-metre race was one of the best of the evening. W. T. Gray, of the University of Pennsylvania, was first, and W. W. Douglas, of the University of Virginia, was second. Both runners raced around the track with hardly a foot separating them until the finish, when the Pennsylvania man forged ahead.

In the 50-metre hurdle invitation, J. J. Martin, University of Virginia, won; J. St. John's College (Annapolis) defeated the Catholic University in a 1,200-metre relay.

The championship of the Washington High School was won by Technical, with Business second and Georgetown Preparatory third. This race was so exciting that the spectators stood up and cheered for several minutes after it was over. Fegan, of the Business, ran a sensational race. The twelve-pound shot put was won by James A. Smith, Time Institute. Distance, 41 feet 1 inch. F. Brice, Johns Hopkins, won the 5,000-metre run, with a handicap of sixty-five yards. The inter-city relay race was won by Baltimore. "Pete" Herring, of the winners, running 3 five races. The Richmond Howitzers were defeated by the National Guard team of Baltimore and Washington. The race required in a head heat between these two teams.
